Foreword

We, whose pictures appear within these pages are the folks of the farms, the villages, the towns of Western New York. Our bodies thrive by the rich soil of the land. We are proud to be bred of matter and spirit; our eyes are as clear and as simple as the early morn; we are the tomorrow. We are ready; we are prepared.

Our parents set us on the path to truth and justice; our teachers showed us how to apply these qualities to daily living. We see the road ahead. The community is looking at us with a quizzical eye. There is no fear. We will take our places in society; we will not disappoint. We are the products of American education. We will carry the torch of our generation with firm hands, heads high pride, hearts filled with enthusiasm and youthful daring.

We will pass on our heritage, enriched, full-blown, unsullied.

"There's my hand and mine, with my heart in it."

In Memoriam

JANET STRIEF

As we close our high school days, we remember a classmate, Janet Strief, who parted from us in our sophomore year. Her smile and friendliness to those around her are pleasant memories to all who were her friends, and we all feel her presence now at the end of the long trail of study, even though she has passed away.

ELVEUS KIEFFER

With only one short term left to complete his senior year, "Spike" passed away suddenly, leaving all of his classmates greatly saddened. His goal in life had already been established, a characteristic seldom found in most seniors, and had he lived, his determination would have surely enabled him to reach it. We all miss him, and hope that we can make him proud of his class and friends.

"He is well paid that is well satisfied."
Merchant of Venice

Foreign Exchange Students

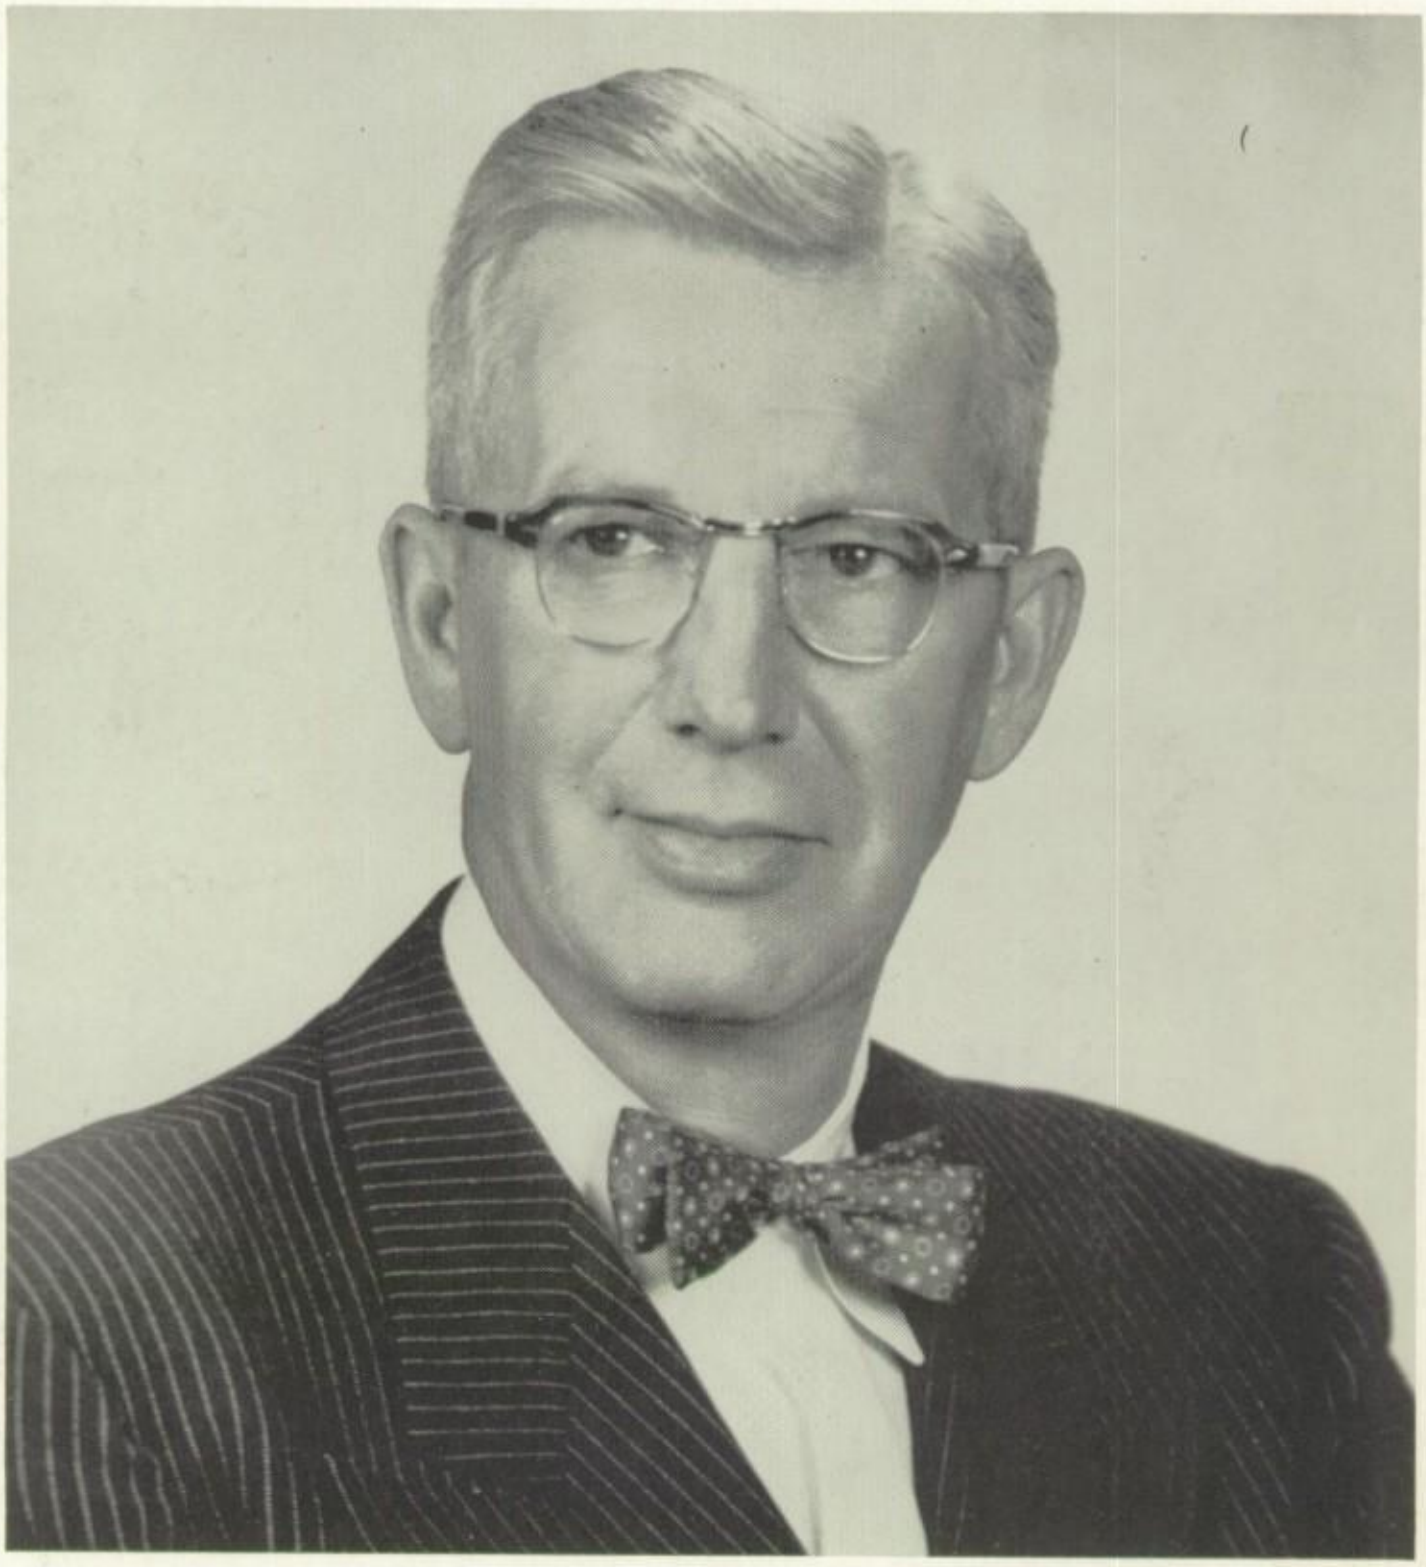
HILARY STIRLAND

Our perky English lass has made a deep and wonderful impression on our school and its students during her stay here. Her sense of humor and fair play are a few of her outstanding characteristics. Hilary has won $25 in the county, and $50 statewise for her essay on Electricity, and was presented with the World Peace key and $10 for winning first place in the World Peace Speaking contest. Next year Hilary will study medicine at the London University. We will always remember her and hope she may return again in the future.

NAOTO IDE

Naoto has done exceptionally well in conquering our language and customs this past year. He has joined in on our parties, and helped us to have many good times. He has also enabled us to understand Japan and its people to a great extent, and we hope his country will know us better after his return. We are very fortunate to have had this dark-haired, sparkly-eyed boy as our exchange student at E.A. We hope the memories of his stay will remain with him always. We wish him all the best in his college law studies, and future expectations.

Dedication



"Which can say more than this rich praise – that you alone are you."

THOMAS C. MOORE

We, the class of 1955, are proud to dedicate our Aurora to our beloved principle, Mr. Thomas C. Moore, who has done more for our class than any other one person. He has watched us progress through our high school days, and has taken a personal interest in each of us, listening to our every problem and helping us to find the right to solution. Our deepest thanks to you, Mr. Moore, for a wonderful job which has been greatly appreciated by us all.

"O brave new world, that has such people in it."
The Tempest

Your Senior High School years have been disrupted by the closing of the Music Department rooms and the construction difficulties caused by the new Gymnasium and Swimming Pool addition. During all this disturbance you have carried on your work in a manner that has brought honors to you and to your school.

We of the Board of Education wish to congratulate you on your achievements and to hope that your life from now on will be "As You Like It."

Donald T. Graves, President
Board of Education

Congratulations! You have finished a task and a phase of your life. You all are eager for the next venture as you should be. A fine group of young Americans, we are proud of you as East Aurora students and sure you will be equally upstanding Alumni.

It seems to me that your choice of a theme for this, your Yearbook, implies that you seek to know and understand yourselves. For surely the exploring of those qualities that are mankind and therefore universal is the reason for the timeless appeal of Shakespeare.

Continue to seek and explore and achieve those things, and all we wish for you in happiness and success will come your way, for you will have earned them.

May the good Lord bless you and keep you.

Mr. Walter Bumgardner

Your High School days have been full of new and exciting experiences. Many were challenging and happy ones—others may have been unsatisfactory and disappointing, but each in its own way, contributed to the complex pattern of growth and maturity. As individuals and as a group, the class of 1955 has made an excellent record for itself and your Alma Mater is proud of your achievements. Hold firmly to the principle of choosing to do what is right, honorable, and worthy in the sight of God and your fellowman, and your future experiences will be more radiant and joyous than ever.

Best wishes and sincere congratulations to the class of 1955.

Mr. Thomas C. Moore

To the class of 1955 — congratulations on your graduation and best wishes for the years to come. You have made an admirable record at E.A.H.S. scholastically, and in your leadership of school activities. We will follow your progress with interest and hope that you have received the necessary education here that will make for a happy, useful life. Keep in touch with us and come back for a visit when you can.

Administration and Guidance

To the class of '55:

Good luck and best wishes for a performance well done! Since you are using the works of William Shakespeare as a theme, it is well to keep in mind that he too was once young like you. He too had to face his future with nothing but what he learned, observed, or experienced. Surely there were many times when he wondered: "Will this play be successful? "Nevertheless, we know he simply worked with the materials he found at hand, adopted them, and embued them with his own personal touch. So you and I need to be faithful, and we will have joy for the present and perhaps even achieve for the future.

Mr. Alfred H. Richert

The time has come when a chapter in your lives must close. Your high school days are over, but it is with a sense of completeness that you leave. This being my first class in East Aurora, I have a deep sense of closeness to all who are graduating, so may I, as probably William Shakespeare would have said to his first, "May you all have the good fortunes that life can bestow upon you."

Mr. William Beebe

May I take this opportunity to congratulate you on your success. I hope in years to come, as you occasionally pull out your old yearbook and recall old memories, that they are all pleasant ones. We, on the staff, also pull out the old yearbook occasionally. It gives us a great deal of pleasure, fifteen or twenty years later, to look at your yearbook and feel satisfied that you have reached the peak of perfection you promised while you were with us. Best of luck for the adventure ahead.

Mr. H. Lewis McNeil

The value of your education already has been proved to you many times. The real value of it, however, is recognized in the mature, responsible people you have become and will be in the future; it will be recognized in the skill with which you will accept responsibilities, make decisions, and in the quality of service you will render. It is interesting to speculate how well you will perform in the major roles, the supporting roles, and in the bit parts that will be yours to play. Inasmuch as your performance as the class of 1955 has been commendable, it is almost certain that you will not digress from so high a standard of performance in the future.

MISS EILEEN DIETRICH

MR. GEORGE KELVER

MR. CARLO NISITA

Advisors

"We will answer all things faithfully."
Merchant of Venice

MR. GEORGE KELVER

Mr. Kelver, although strict in his supervision, has brought our class many a laugh. His humor and good-naturedness are two of his outstanding qualities. Many times he has brought to our attention the importance of accomplishing our many duties successfully, and gave us the spirit and "go power" that was needed. He has given us much of his time to cooperate with our every problem. Our sincere thanks to Mr. Kelver for a wonderful job.

MISS EILEEN DIETRICH

Miss Dietrich has worked hard to make the class of 1955 a great success. Her interest and support in our every project enabled us to go on despite many disappointments and handicaps. Her popularity with every Senior will long be remembered. Our deepest thanks to Miss Dietrich for her unending loyalty and friendship to our class.

MR. CARLO NISITA

Without Mr. Nisita, our '55 yearbook would not have been completed. Although he gave us many helpful ideas, he never interfered with our own wishes. He believed that the yearbook was ours. He was always present to aid us in conquering our problems, which were many, and gave us much of his time. We were very fortunate to have Mr. Nisita as our yearbook advisor.

It would be argument for a week; laughter for a month; ~~ and a good jest forever.

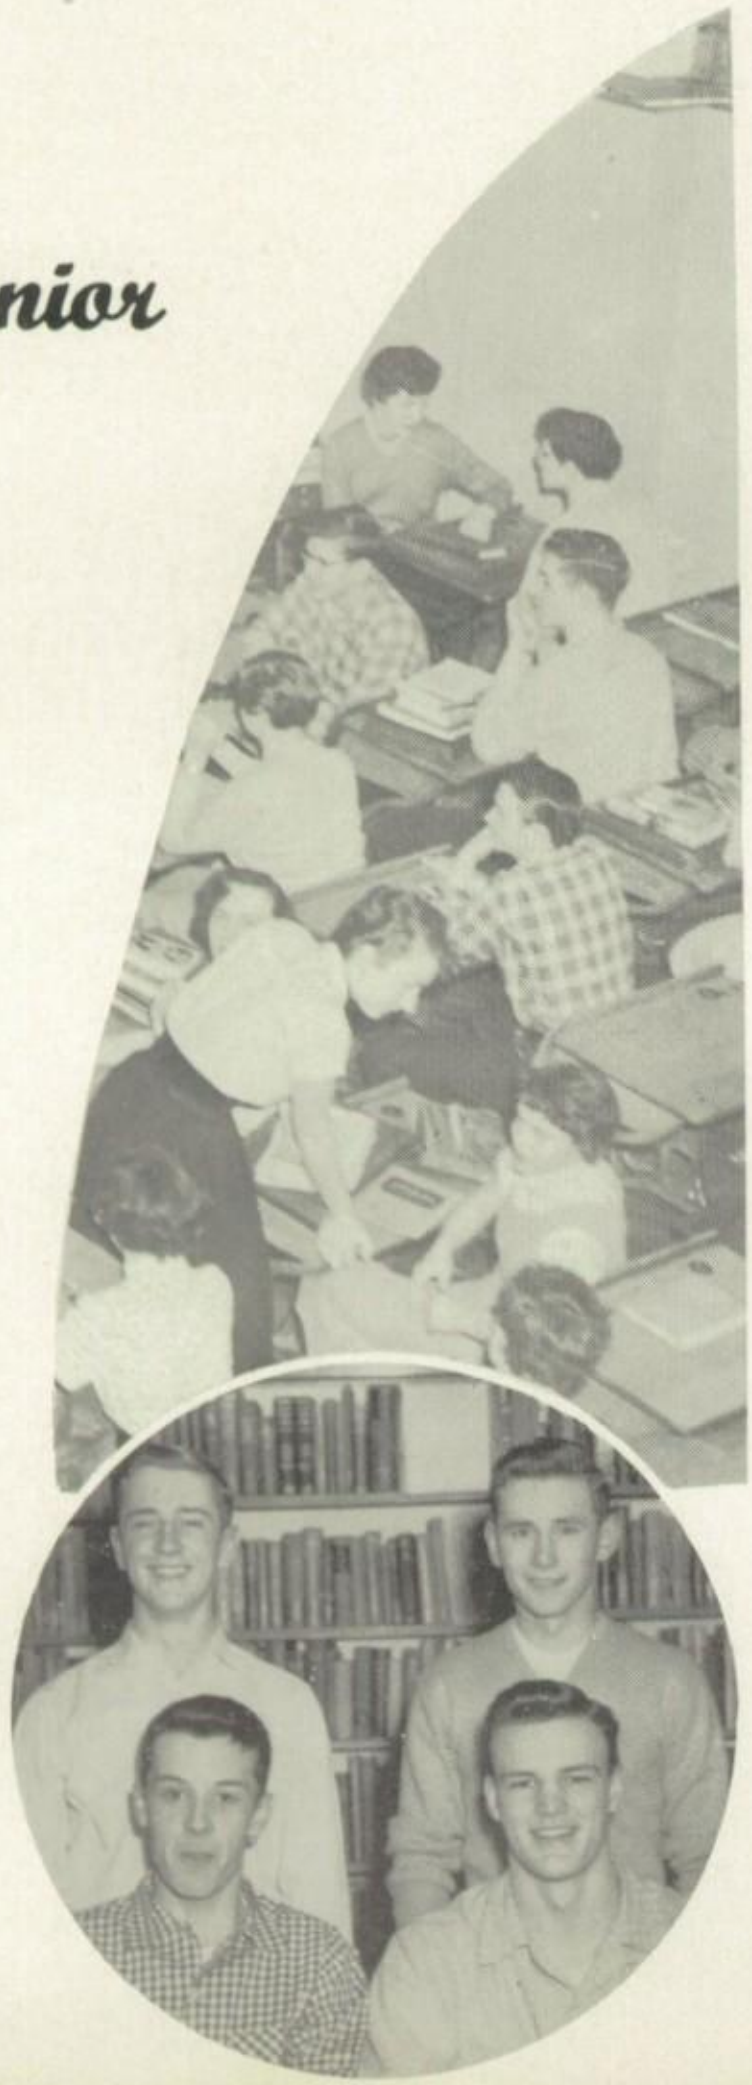
"There is a history

Class

Senior



Today is the big day! A day we will all remember for the rest of our lives. It is the day when all lower classmen look up to us and hope that maybe someday they will reach that great goal. Each and everyone of us is thinking about the future. Some of us may be going to college, and some to work, but wherever we go and whatever we do, we, the Class of '55, will always try our best to be a credit to all who have so willingly given their time and effort to prepare us for the unexplored chapter of our lives.

With hearts beating wildly, we found ourselves in our never-to-be-forgotten Freshman year, which could be dubbed Our Comedy of Errors. This year we made plans for the Scotch Hop, our first dance. Although, none of us knew too much about dancing we all went and thought it a crowning event.

Being very serious minded, we experienced our first Career Day. It gave us some idea of the vast number of careers which the future would hold for us.

Our Sophomore year had its joys and sadnesses. The loss of our dearly beloved classmate, Janet Strief, will always be felt by all.

In November we sponsored the most unusual social event of the year, the Levi Leap. All the guys and dolls turned up in, of all things for a dance, Levis!

Later in the year, many of our classmates became members of the Junior National Honor Society. Measure for Measure this was a very enjoyable year.

The first few months of our Junior year passed and soon the halls rang with the cheery cries of, "Hey, gals, got your guys for the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance?" Gail Weiss was chosen Daisy Mae and Mervin Baker, Lil Abner.

Our Class is known for the different ways in which it does things, and so to live up to that reputation we planned a completely different Junior-Senior Prom, "Manhattan Rendezvous." The Romeo and Juliet of our Rendezvous were Nancy Cooley and Court McKeeman.

Now it was time to prove that our class had, like past Junior classes, amateur actors and actresses. We produced "Once and For All." Our many thanks go to Miss Eileen

History

Dietrich whose capable direction made it such an overwhelming success. We would also like to thank Mr. Norberg and Miss Harp for their help.

Envy and pride mindled together as twenty-three of our classmates were installed in the Senior National Honor Society.

Donna McGrath, Betsy Minsker, Mervin Baker, and John Gunning spent the months of July and August in Germany. Our exchange students for the year were Naoto Ide of Japan and Hillary Stirland of England. They have played a big part in making our Senior year a happy one.

As our Senior year draws to a close we take time out to look back on all the memorable events of our last year in EAHS.

The first big glory of the year that brought joy and prestige to all of us, was our undefeated football team. We all know that our cheerleaders contributed immensely to our undefeated season. Our sincere thanks go to Miss Dietrich and Mr. Kelver who so willingly gave up their Saturdays to help us make the hot dog stand a financial success.

All the Seniors participated in our magazine sale which brought us great acclaim. Many a pair of shoes were worn out when we all went campaigning to help raise funds to produce our yearbook. The top salesmen were Carol Brickwell and James Shaffer.

The second memorable event of the year was the presentation of "Let Freedom Sing" on television by the Senior Chorus. This beautiful narrative-script was written by Miss Dillon and directed by Mr. Eaton.

Many of the Seniors and lower classmen rang in the New Year at the annual New Years Eve Dance.

This year also had its sorrows. We will all remember the second tragedy of our high school days, the loss of our friend and classmate, Elveus Kieffer.

Another gala event of the year was the Senior's annual old clothes day. This caused great confusion because the yearbook staff pictures were taken, old clothes and all.

Graduation brings us to the end of four very happy years. As we approach the conclusion of our high school days, one thought enters our mind, "All's Well That Ends Well."

Twelfth Night

Once and for All

"Once and For All," a three act play by Sidney Duvall, was a big success. The play and its characters were well portrayed under the direction of Miss Dietrich and Miss Harp. Our thanks also to Mr. Norberg who advised the stage-crew. Under general chairman, Gail Weiss, these committee heads were selected: stage manager, Steve Aplin; stage crew, Merv Baker; programs and tickets, Betsy Minsker; properties, Peg Woodruff; publicity, Jack Putney; and costumes, Nan Hanley. The play ran three nights, and tickets were sold out each time. All participants enjoyed the satisfaction of contributing to this production.

"For you and I are past our dancing days."
Romeo and Juliet

Manhattan Rendezvous

"Manhattan Rendezvous," our prom in 1954, was a great social event. All the committees were cooperative and hard working, adding to its success. Decorative models, constructed from paper and sparklers, hung from the ceiling, and outlines of the New York skyscrapers filled out the walls. This was a completely different idea in the school's history. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen, Nancy Cooley, and king, Court McKeemen. Attendants were Mary Lou Bement, Barb Frantz, Merv Baker, and Tony French. Art Dedrick and his orchestra provided the music, and fun was had by all.

Lowland Sea

The most spectacular musical production of the year was "The Lowland Sea." Barbara Schmidt and Bill Ulmer headed the large cast of this operetta. Mr. Eaton directed the chorus while area musicians supplied the accompaniment. A wonderful job was done by Mr. Norberg, staging director. Miss Harp, make-up; Mrs. Morgan, dancing, and the Homemaking Department, costumes. Our congratulations and thanks to all who made this operetta a success.

"I thank you for your voices; thank you, your most sweet voices."

This year the Youth Discussion Group held discussions .of current topics in the various schools composed of East Aurora, Hamburg, West Seneca, and Orchard Park. Members of the Problems of Democracy class and some from the American History course participated. Also included in the activities is the representation of five students in the model U.N. Assembly of Western New York schools in the spring. Officers of the group are Peter Ruszcyk, President; Rita Kopp, Vice-President; and Barbara Smith, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Leland is the advisor.

Garcians

The Garcia Club was started this year by a group of ninth graders who wished to continue working with the Junior Historical Society of New York State. They elected as President, Robin Wyatt; Vice-President, Karen Howe; Secretary, Lynne Holtzclaw; and Treasurer, Steve Howard. The sponsor is Mrs. Thomason. The purpose of the club this year was to investigate the early history of the churches of East Aurora. The club printed a booklet containing this material, which was on sale in March. Organizations such as this enable our young people to become better citizens, and help them to provide for a better America.

Their activities for the year have included, group singing at the Veteran's Hospital and the Lion's Club, the Good Friday program at the Aurora Theatre, a spring concert, the Baccalaureate, and the Graduation exercises. However, the highlight of the year was their presentation of "Let Freedom Sing," written by Miss Dorothy Dillon, shown on WGR-TV, on November 7, 1954. Their beloved

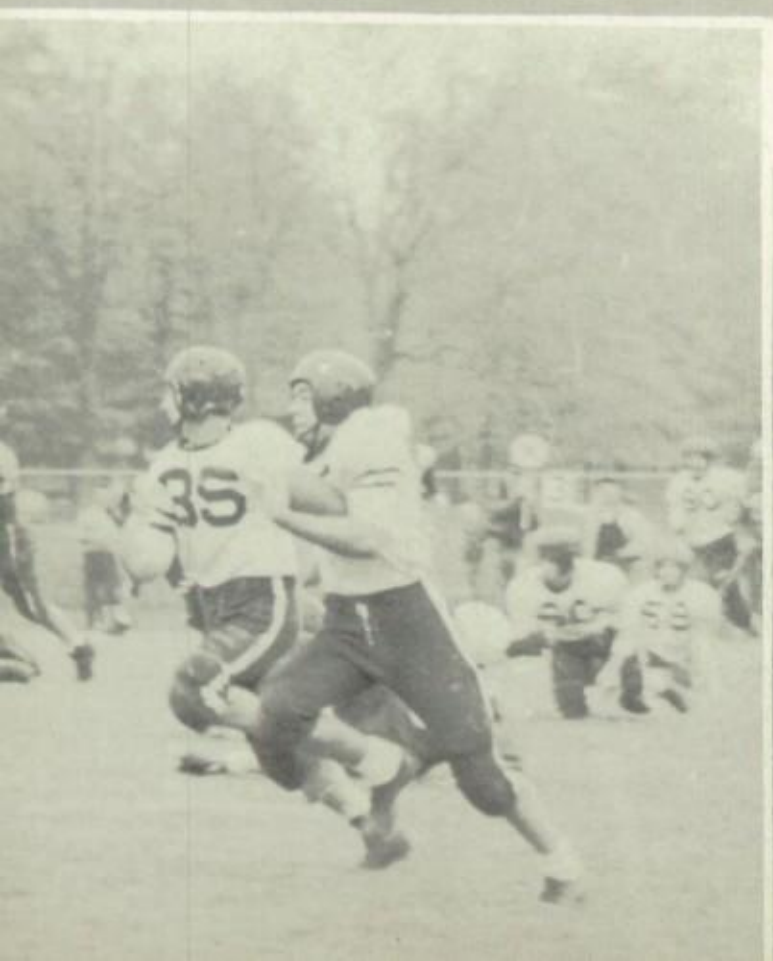
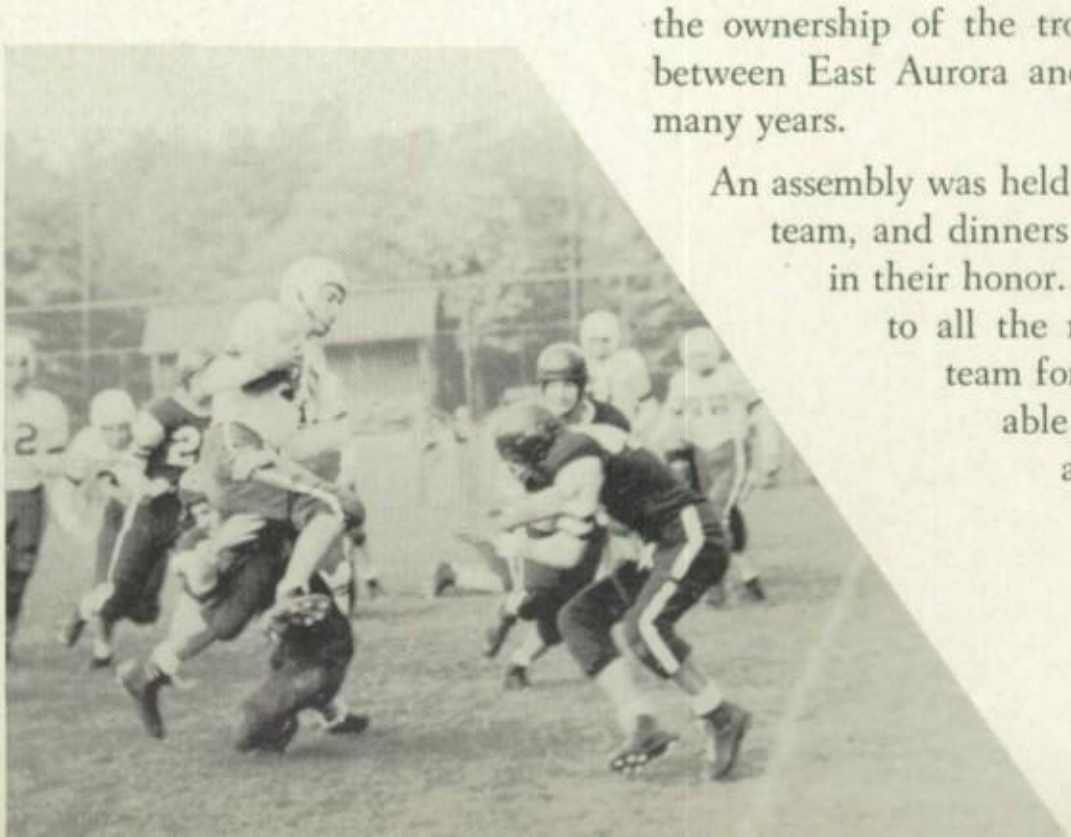
The honor of our undefeated football season for last year is still talked of. In twenty-six years such glory has never befallen our school. Under our coach, Mr. Pfleeger and team captain, Jim Youngers, the team battled to victory every time. The spirit was tremendous. We gained the ownership of the trophy exchanged between East Aurora and Hamburg for many years.

An assembly was held in honor of the team, and dinners were sponsored in their honor. Our hats go off to all the members of the team for such a memorable football season, and we are all very proud of them.





Our Junior Varsity football season is to be remembered for the great effort exerted by all. Under the coaching of Mr. Lawson and M. Dresher, the team ended its season with record of 2 victories, 4 defeats, and one tie. This year's captain was Dennis Vinton.

This year's Varsity Basketball team won four and lost ten of their fourteen games of the 1954-1955 season. East Aurora scored 244 field goals and 185 free throws. Their toughest opponents were West Seneca and Amherst. Our school rival, Hamburg, defeated us both times, but only by scores of 60 -59 and 45 - 42 respectively. These two games were the most exciting of the season. Our four victories included wins over Frontier, Orchard Park and Eden. Mr. L. Hulbert was their coach.

The Junior Varsity Basket-

successful season of eight victories

The Track season for 1954 was a successful one. Thanks to Mr. Henry's fine coaching, the team ended the season with a 3 win—2 loss record, and placed third in the Division 1 Sectional Championship contests.

Under the coaching of Mr. Nisita, an expert teacher in his field of sports, our cross-country team had a record of two victories, and two defeats for the season of the year of 1954. In the fall of that year East Aurora was host to the second Intersectional Meet of Erie County schools. This meet is sponsored by the East Aurora Athletic Association, and originally was initiated by our own coach, Mr. Nisita. Sixteen area schools participated in this contest, and in it there were 160 runners. East Aurora placed second at Amherst in the sectionals.

Junior and Senior Girls' Sports

"We have some salt

Under the supervision of Mrs. Morgan, Miss Morgan, and Mrs. Luders, the junior and senior high girls participate in many after-school sports. These include field hockey, basketball, baseball, volleyball, shuffle board, ping pong, tennis, and badminton. Many of the girls participate in play-days with the surrounding schools in the area. This plan encourages competition among the students, and fosters the ideals of fair play and sportsmanship. This year the girls sports program was curtailed because of the construction of the swimming pool adjoining the gym.

Varsity "A" Club

In September the Girls Varsity A started a very active and successful year. Their first and foremost project was getting blazers for the members. In January, they had a baked goods sale, with all the proceeds going toward paying for the blazers. In March, they held a dance, "The Bermuda Bounce," which was a great social and financial success. This year the Club was again supervised by Mrs. Helen Morgan, who put her best foot forward and helped a great deal. The officers of the club were: Sally Grey, President; Jane Brice, Vice-President; and Mary Foster, Secretary-Treasurer.

In March they sponsored a dance for the benefit of building up the treasury for letter jacket payments and for their Varsity A dinner which was held at the Roycroft Inn at the end of the year.

Dear Cindy,

We've had a lot of fun this year and I hope we have as much this summer. I'll miss you next year but I won't miss "Waggie". Will you? Maybe I'll see you on Saturdays if you don't go to the Plaza every week.

You, Dotty, and I can have fun this summer, o.k.? We'll Walk to Crystal (sp.) Beach. We can start about 2:30 A.M. Have fun next year and remember me.
